

June 2019

CIB Invitation
W117 Workshop: June 20, 2:30 p.m.
CIB World Congress, Hong Kong

Dr. Dean and five other BVA visionaries will be attending and presenting the latest BVA results in Hong Kong at the annual CIB worldwide conference.

The presentations will include:

1. Latest case study results.
2. The transformation from Best Value Procurement (BVP) to the Best Value Approach (BVA).
3. The application of BVA on long-term services and maintenance projects.
4. New research efforts into the Project Management of the Future Model being developed at SKEMA Project Management School of Business.
5. A New Risk Management Model.
6. The latest revision of 2019 publications regarding Information Measurement Theory and Best Value Approach training manuals.
7. A New Research Model on how to apply grounded theory to build a faster research model that is integrated into industry practice.
8. An answer to resolving complexity of project management through simplification and automation.

Dr. Dean is attempting to find more academic researchers who want to partner with the W117 BVA research development. Please find him at the World Building Congress in Hong Kong that will be held from the 17th – 21 June.

Contact

Professor Dean T. Kashiwagi
P.E., PhD, Fulbright Scholar, IFMA
Fellow
W117 Co-coordinator
DeanKashiwagi@ksm-inc.com

Professor Santema, S.C.
Prof. Mr. Dr. Ir.
W117 Co-coordinator
S.C.Santema@tudelft.nl

W117 encourages young researchers to innovate and look "outside the box". W117 is encouraging all young academic researchers to be exposed to the Information Worker approach. The CIB is the most innovative and powerful organization among all the research organizations for visionaries and change agents. It allows the freedom necessary for innovative and disruptive changes in the industry to occur.

As the co-coordinator of the W117 workplan, CIB coordinator of the year in 2017, and 26 years of activity in the CIB, I strongly encourage all young researchers to attend the 2019 CIB World Congress.

Information

More information about the CIB Commission W117 is to be found here.

